We are delighted to be joined for a virtual interactive webinar by

Kirsty Godfrey, HMI

‘Deep Dive into Reading’

An opportunity to find out what to expect in a reading deep dive, how to prepare your school and what high quality reading provision looks like.

15th November, 2022

3.45 to 5.00 pm

Kirsty is a senior His Majesty's Inspector and has worked for Ofsted since 2016. She works in the curriculum unit leading on early education. She was previously Ofsted's early reading subject lead. Kirsty was involved in shaping the school inspection handbook with regard to early reading and has been part of the team responsible for developing training for inspectors. Before working for Ofsted, Kirsty was the headteacher of a primary school. She was also the head of primary in an all-through school where she set up the primary provision from scratch and developed her interest and expertise in the early years and early reading.
